
THE

CONTENTS

OF THE

THIRD VOLUME.

THE Blind Man and his	A true Story of a Fellow of a
THE Blind Man and his Dog, a Fable, from a French Manuscript of Mr.	College 51
French Manuscript of Mr.	Ode to Disdain 53
Carotte. By Mr. C. Denis	On Rime. An Epistle to the
Page 1	Rev. Mr. E. Lloyd. By
The River and the Meadow,	Robert Lloyd 57
from the same. By the same 3	On Clarinda's fall from her
The Story Tellers. A true	Horse 67
Anecdote. By the same 5	To Miss D-x C-ne play-
Epigram from Monsieur St.	ing on the Guittar, and ac-
Gelais. By the fame 6	companying it with her
Soliman the Second. A moral	Voice 70
Tale ibid	Lines written in a Fit of the
The Nayad of Bath. To Co-	Tooth-ach 72
lonel S—ne 25	Thoughts concerning the an-
On Miss Randal succeeding	tient Drama (concluded) 73
Miss Lawrence to the Pump	The Bedford Sellions 82
at Bath 26	Apology for the Life of Praise
The Nymph of the Pump 27	God Barebone 85
A Madrigal 29	The Birth, Parentage and Edu-
On a favourite Hunting Mare	cation of Praise-God Bare-
that was killed by a Stake 29	bone 86
An Epistle from J. C. Esq; to	To Miss S-D of W. H.
Mr. E. L. 31	Lancashire 99
The Answer to J. C. Esq; 33	A familiar Epistle to a Friend,
An Extempore to a Lady weep-	who fent the Author a ing at the Departure of her	Hamper of Wine. By Robert Lloyd 104
Husband 35 Verses to a Lady ibid	To Belinda, upon her making
To the fame 36	the Author a present of a
Thoughts concerning the an-	Purse 113
tient Drama (continued) 36	To J. B. Efq; upon his Friend,
, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , ,	formerly
	,

CONTEN

formerly a Poet Hater,	Death of a grey Mare. To turning Poet in his old Age	Miss G—ble of W—l,
114	Leicestershire 175 Retirement 180
Donarem Pateras, &c. 116	Retirement 180
Prologue to the Andria of	An Ode, secundem artem 187
Terence, spoken at the late	Part of Juvenal's first Satire
Mr. Clare's Academy 118	imitated 190
Horace, Book IV. Ode IX.	Anti-Lucretius, Lib. I. ver.
paraphrased. Inscribed to	45, imitated 194
Mr. Litchfield of Northamp-	In Obitum Ottley Epif-
ton 120	copi Menevensis 195
On the numerous Expositors	Strephon to Delia. A Love of the Bible 123
To Belinda, on a certain Pair	Epistle 198 Fallen Man 201
of her Admirers 124	The Times are changed 205
The Lady's Prayer. Her Huf-	The Speech of Thomas Pot-
band gone 125	ter, Esq; against the Repeal
A Pastoral 126	of the Jew Bill. Now first
Fencing 128	printed from the original
Painting 131	MSS. in his own Hand
Fiddling 133	writing 209
band gone 125 A Paftoral 126 Fencing 128 Painting 131 Fiddling 133 Epitaphium 136	Bedlam, sive Hospitii Insano-
Prologue to Philaster, written	rum Descriptio 222
by George Colman, spoken	Studley. To Miss B. F. 225
by Mr. King . 137	Prologus ad Phormionem 230
Life is a Chace 138	Epilogus ad Phormionem 231
The fourth Satire of Boileau	Epitaph 232
imitated 145	Epigram. On a famous Al-
On fitting at the Play in the	lusion in Dr. Brown's Esti-
fame Box with Chloe 151	mate ibid
The Temple of Love 153	On a Monument in Westmin-
Porta Bellini 156	ster-Abbey, on which are
Angiportum Excambianum	the Figures of Faith and
157	Hope, without Charity 233
A Dialogue between Billinf-	Charity. A Satire. Inscribed
gate and Exchange-Alley	to the Rev. Mr. Hanbury.
158	By R. Lloyd 235
Ars Rythmica 163	Ode to Womankind 242
Rhiming 164	Amelia to Alexis 246
- Hor. B. III. Ode XIX. para-	Merulæ. Elegia 249
phrased and addressed to Mr.	Epilogue to a private Play
Lloyd 167	acted at Westminster 251
An Elegy on the Death of E.	Fidelity 252
W. Eiq; 168	On a Queen Anne's Guinea
Conspicillum 171	253
The Spectacles 172	On Suicide. A Thought from
A Burlefque Elegy on the	Martial 254
	O-

On

	On Flavia's weeping at the Trial of Maclean an High-	To M. de Genonville: An Epistle, translated from Vol-
	wayman ibid	taire 307
	To an old Friend, who gave	Remarks on the Roman Coup the Management and
	Profits of his Living to his	mitia 308 The Gown: A Panegyric
		321
1	Wife 255 Horace, Book I. Ode II. imi-	Reflections on the Population
	tated 256	of America: By M. de
The Bree	tated 256 Horace, Ode XXVI. Book III.	Voltaire. Translated from imitated 258	the Addenda to his Uni-
Ngi	On a Country Parish Clerk	versal History, lately pub-
	259	lished 330
	On fuch Inn-keepers as drink	Thoughts on the Populouf-
	themselves almost to death,	ness of ancient and mo-
	in order to acquire a Liveli-	dernNations. From the Ad-hood 250	denda to M. Voltaire's Uni-
1	Horace, Book I. Ode XIII.	versal History, lately pub-
-	260	lished 335
4	The 1st Ode of Anacreon 261	An Account of a curious Ori-
	Anacreon, Ode II. 262	ental Manuscript, lately pre-
	Ode XXV. ibid	fented by M. de Voltaire
1	Ode XXVI. 263	to the French King's Li-
-	Ode LXVI. ibid	brary; and supposed to be
	To Miss — From Ca-	one of the most ancient in
	tullus , 269	the World 337
	To Mr. Benjamin Martin, on	The Candle and Snuffers. A
	his Planetarium, &c. para-	Fable. By Robert Lloyd,
	phrased from Claudian 265	M. A. 341
	An Anacreontic 266	Pro gue, written by Mr. J.
	An Epitaph on a notorious	Cunningham, and spoken
	Sodomite 267	at the opening of an elegant
	A Simile 268	little Theatre at Whitby in
	On the Spring 269	Yorkshire 343
	To a Friend with a Present of	Juvenal's Ninth Satire imi-
d	Pigeons. Written in a Fit	tated 344
10 17	of the Gout 271	To Amoret 348
	An Epistle to Arthur Murphy,	Ad Cicadam. Anacreontis
	Esq; on the Success of his last New Comedies 273	Imitatio 351
*	last New Comedies 273	An Original Letter from the Reflections on Criticism.	celebrated M. Rouffeau of 100	Translated from the French.	Geneva, to his Bookfeller at
	277	the Hague ibid
	On the Study of Truth: An	Observations on the State of
	Epistle to a Friend 287	Commerce in Britain, at
	Simkin: A Fairy Tale 302	the arrival of Julius Cæfar
	•	•

Remarks

Remarks on the Learning of	A ludicrous Oration on the
Shakespear 356	Seat and Point of Honour
Translation of Mr. Pope's Epi-	. 392
taph on Gay, into Latin 362	On the Patronage of Poetical
A Recipe for a Modern Critic	Genius 395
ibid	Moral Reflections on the
A Sonnet after the Manner of	Reigning Taste for satirical
Spencer 363	Productions 399
The Miser and Mouse, an	A Project for diminishing the
Epigram from the Greek	present Number of Authors
/	-
A Song by Mr S I	A Pagaint for a Love Song
A Song by Mr. S. J——n	A Receipt for a Love Song
364	408
Faber Acicularius, Anglice, a	An Epigram
Pin-maker 364	To a young Lady, on a hu-
The Tea-pot and Scrubbing-	mourous Propofal to marry
brush, a Fable 365	the Author 410
Happiness, an Epistle to a	The Servitor 411
Friend 367	On a young Lady given to
Ænigmatical History of —	laugh at Church 416
Nothing 387	Horace, Ode IX. Book III.
On the late numerous Expo-	translated 416
fitions of the Bible 389	On Miss - of G-w-h
A C .	418
A Song An Epitaph To Venus 390 ibid	A compleat Index to the three
To Venus ibid	Volumes of this Work
10 Tellus	Volumes of this work